ABOUT EXCEPTIONAL PARENTS UNLIMITED

Founded in 1976 by Marion Karian, Exceptional Parents Unlimited started as a support group for parents of children with Down Syndrome. The concerns and efforts of these parents became EPU's foundation and still provide direction for the agency. Over the years, EPU developed a wide range of programs and services in response to the expressed needs of the families in our community. Today, over 3,000 children and families are served each year. EPU has become a national leader in providing and promoting comprehensive, family-centered services through four major EPU programs: Assessment Center for Children, Parenting Services, Parent Education & Support, and Early Childhood Services. These direct services are available in English, Spanish, and Hmong through home visitation, virtual meetings, and at our main offices as well as neighborhood resource centers.

ABOUT OUR BEACON OF HOPE RECIPIENT RACHEL CAMACHO HAGANS

Rachel Camacho Hagans, Director of Case Management Services at the Central Valley Regional Center, is the second recipient of the EPU Beacon of Hope Award. Rachel is retiring in October after 40 years of working for the California Regional Center system, most recently as a leader of the Early Start program at Central Valley Regional Center. She has spent her career working to better the lives of children, families, and individuals with unique needs. Rachel helped with the initial design the Infant Family Service Plan (IFSP) in California and was a critical part in the development of the Early Start program in California. She has served on the State Interagency Coordination Council (ICC), State Systematic Improvement Plan Team, and was a part of the Fresno County Help Me Grow leadership. Rachel's connection to those she serves shines through the work she does and the staff that she has trained. Her commitment to the community is unwavering, making her the clear choice for our Beacon of Hope Award.
